

Boost Your Potential

Fast Track to a Second Master's Degree

As a Bellevue University master's degree graduate, it may be easier than you think to continue your education and boost your professional credentials.

Depending on your first degree and your educational goals, you can earn a second master's degree with as few as 18 credit hours. That is about half of the credits normally required which can save you thousands of dollars and accelerate your career! This opportunity is only available to Bellevue University graduates.
